GARLAND
WRIGHT - 1

Dear Garland,

Here is the play that I think might interest you very much. And it is not in need of "development."

Just a few background facts: It had an Equity Showcase at Theatre of the Open Eye
in the fall of 1979 and a staged reading at the McCarter in 1980. It is discussed by Elinor Fuchs in The Death of Character (this year's George-Jean-Nathan-Award-winning book) and the final scene may appear in an anthology of apocalyptic plays to be published in 1999-2000. Directors who have wanted to work on it have included
Richard Foreman and Robert Woodruff.
Its quality will speak for itself as you begin to read ~~from the play~~. From the first moment I saw you work I have wanted you to do this play & meet

I have almost finished research for Playwright
in Rehearsal and am now mainly in New Haven:

137 Cottage Street, Apt E-6
New Haven, CT 06511-2457
phone: 203-624-3982

If the answering machine in New Haven is not on, please try 212-989-1648. Whenever the answering machine is on, that is when I can be found.

I look forward to hearing from you and, I hope, seeing you when your schedule eases up (it does it?).

All my best wishes

Susan ~~Corio~~

Good title -
mentioned stage reading at McCarthys &
Equity Showcase at Theatre of Upper East (see notes)

mentioned it was discussed in the Dept of Channels when just in the Nebra award

Said ~~that~~ the play was very interesting
why - & I said I would interest him
(emphasis on "I" under?)
Could I see him for 5 mins at Sullivan &
give it to him? (knows his very well)
only at new reported name & phone - mentioned I was going to found rehearsal
for Gussoneass (then advised him)

Called again Thurs. 3/26

Called again 4-7. Tues

Also called Kathy Hood, Sullivan - 4-7
